DETAILED ACTIONDrawings

The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(4) because reference character "122" has been used to designate both the left and right sides of figure 21. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Objections

Claim 4 is objected to because of the following informalities: In line 2, no antecedent basis could be found for "the innermost casing". Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3672

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1,3,4 and 12-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gilbert 5,101,895.

Gilbert discloses a well tool having a cutting tool 91, a sealing device 17 and an anchor 13. As to claim 3, the device is carried on a drillstring 21. As to claim 4, seal means 17 seals the annulus between the drillstring and the casing. As to claim 12, the anchor means 13 is laterally extendable. As to claim 13, surface 51 is a high-friction surface for engaging the casing. As to claim 14, surfaces 51 are radial casing-contacting surfaces.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 2 and 5-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gilbert (described above) in view of Haynes 5,101,895.

Gilbert is considered to disclose all of the claimed features except for the sealing means being cup seals and the use of a circulation sub. Haynes teaches the use of multiple cup seals arranged in reverse direction to one another to isolate a zone. It would have been obvious to replace the seal means 17 of Gilbert with the cup seal means of Haynes since they are equivalent parts for performing equivalent functions and the cup seals of Haynes are more easily made and operated than the inflatable seal of Gilbert. Haynes also discloses a circulation sub 46 below the upper seals and above the lower seals. It would have been obvious to provide Gilbert with a circulation sub since use of the spaced cup seals would require a circulation sub to circulate fluid.

Art Unit: 3672

Claim 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gilbert (described above) in view of Raghavan et al 5,381,631 or Hansen et al 6,478,088.

Gilbert is considered to disclose all of the claimed subject matter except for the cutting tool being a jet cutter. It would have been considered obvious to replace the cutting tool of Gilbert with a jet cutting tool as taught by Raghavan or Hansen since the cutting tools are considered equivalent structure for performing equivalent functions.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 15-23 are allowed.
